What to take to your test

- your UK driving licence
(If you have an old-style paper licence, you must bring it along with a valid passport)
- your theory test pass certificate
- a car - most people use their driving instructor's, but you can use your own if it meets the rules

Your test can be cancelled and you'll have to pay again if you don't bring the right documents and don't follow all the rules in the guide.

The rules can be found here: <https://www.gov.uk/driving-test/using-your-own-car>

Changing your test appointment

If you need to change your test appointment you can only do this 6 times. If you have changed it 6 times and the appointment is not suitable, you'll have to cancel your test and book a new one. You'll get a refund when you cancel your test if you give three clear working days' notice. If not, you will lose your test fee. Sunday is not counted as a working day.
